Guest Juror: Mike Bailey, AWS/NWS

Mike is a local painter who resides in Santa Cruz. In midlife, Mike answered a long-percolating desire to paint. A few lessons, lots of books and an occasional workshop got him started. His intense curiosity led him to learn and study design and composition, which led to his desire to teach that aspect of painting.

He developed "Painting Beyond the Obvious" as a college level course and offered it at the University of California at Santa Cruz (UCSC). Many painters now credit him and that class with their own breakthroughs in artistic understanding.

Mike is a signature member of the two most prestigious national associations; American Watercolor Society (AWS) and National Watercolor Society (NWS). He is also a past president of NWS.
